

PARKE COUNTY TEAMS TO PLAY IN SECTIONAL

SCHOOLS TRANSFERRED TO LOCAL TOURNAMENT
BY I. H. S. A. A.

PROF. YOUNT IS NOTIFIED

Greenville, Marshall, Bellmore, Judson
and Bridgeton Added To Tourney Competition

Parke county high school basketball teams have been transferred to the Greencastle sectional tournament, according to word received today morning by Prof. Warren Yount, superintendent of the local schools, from Arthur L. Trester, commissioner of the Indiana High School Athletic Association. This action was based upon during a meeting of the board in Indianapolis last Saturday but which was not made public Tuesday.

This transfer brings the total number of schools participating in the sectional to fourteen. Of this group, nine are Putnam county teams
including Greencastle, Bainbridge, Clerdale, Belle Union, Roachdale, Elmore, Reelsville, Russellville, and Putnamville.

Of the five new teams added to the sectional here on March 6-7, Rockville is the strongest aggregation. This year has an impressive record for the season. The adding of the five county quintets will increase the competition in the Greencastle tournament and interest will also be on a larger scale.

Lottery Scheme Probe Underway

OFFICIALS CONFISCATE THOUS-ANDS OF STATE FINAL NET
TICKETS

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17 (UP)—
State and state officials joined today in investigating a high school basketball lottery scheme, as a result of the seizure last night of thousands of pool tickets on the tournament to be played in March.

These tickets, together with others on horse races at various Mexican travels and the Canadian Veterans' Association Sweepstakes, were found in a stolen auto.

Each ticket stated the holder was entitled to a share in "The Hoosier basketball classic of 1931." It further indicated the holder of the winning ticket was to be paid $10,000,
with $5,000 the reward for the running horse.

It further said: "All other teams
playing in the state classic $500.
Every member against whose ticket
a team is drawn will share in these prizes. Holders of tickets drawing will be notified by wire." The price of the tickets was 50 cents each.

Police found several books of stubs,
containing the names and addresses of persons who had bought tickets.
These will be used by officials in endeavoring to trace the source of the tickets.

GOODMAN GETS TERM

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17 (UP)— Marion Goodman, 60, millionaire former Gary department store owner, sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary at Leavenworth for $5,000 after he pleaded guilty in U. S. district court yesterday to charges of receiving and selling stolen interstate merchandise valued at $5,000.

Federal judge Fred L. Whan ruled that Goodman also must pay the costs of two trials, yesterday's and his in 1928.

DEBATERS WIN

Through some cause, Prof. John H. DePauw of Terre Haute State Normal was scheduled to be critic judge of the debate Monday night between DePauw University debaters and a team from Indiana University, failed to arrive. As a result the audience was called upon to make decision and the DePauw team was favored.

The debate was on the question Resolved: That the state should adopt compulsory unemployment insurance laws. The DePauw team was composed of Carl Hintz, Marion Yoder and John Milet. Formal style was used for the debate, each team presenting three constructive speeches and then giving refutation. The DePauw team had the advantage of having debated this same question already this year against the University of Dayton and Miami University.

MISS VONDERSCHMIDT CON- SCIOUS AFTER 163 HOURS

Thelma Vonderschmidt, 17, awoke
at the city hospital last night exactly one week after she had been injured in an auto accident. Suffering a brain concussion, the girl had remained unconscious for 163 hours, a week almost to the minute after she had been injured.

When she awoke last night, Miss
Vonderschmidt called for her mother, Mrs. Harry Vonderschmidt, and talked to her for several minutes. The injured girl was able to take more nourishment Sunday and her condition was declared by Dr. J. E. Moer, attending physician, to have been greatly improved. — Bloomington

MRS. NEWGENT HEADS LEGION AUXILIARY

OFFICERS ELECTED AT ORGAN-IZATION MEETING HERE
MONDAY NIGHT

MRS. FRANK MOORE SPEAKS

Much Enthusiasm At Joint Meeting
Of Two Organizations In Legion Hall.

An American Legion Auxiliary for Putnam County was organized at an enthusiastic meeting of about two hundred Legion members and their wives, mothers, and sisters, in the hall of Greencastle Post No. 58, Monday evening. Mrs. Roy Newgent was elected president of the organization.
Other officers chosen were: Mrs.
Thomas Williams, first vice president;
Mrs. Walter Ross, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Brackney, secretary;
Mrs. Gwin Ensign, treasurer; Mrs.
Robert Mahoney, chairman; and Mrs.
Lawrence W. Crump, Mrs. L. D.
Snider, and Mrs. Emma Smith, members of the executive committee.

Much enthusiasm was manifest at the meeting and prospects for a strong auxiliary here are excellent.
All wives, mothers, and sisters of World War veterans are eligible and are urged to join the auxiliary.

Mrs. Frank Moore, of Brazil, district president of the Legion Auxiliary, spoke to the women and Legion
members, and assisted in reorganizing
the local auxiliary.

The Legion members voted to reaffirm their previous stand for immediate payment of Adjusted Compensation Certificates by the government. At 10:30 o'clock the meeting turned in on addresses by the State Adjutant Ollie Davis and the vice commander of the southern district,
which were broadcast from Indianapolis. Both spoke on the adjusted compensation certificates and emphasized the importance of every ex-service man affiliating with the Legion in order to give the Legion more power
in its appeal to Congress.

It was announced at the meeting that a district session of the Legion
would be held at Terre Haute Sunday.

TOURIST KILLED

BOMBAY, Feb. 17, (UP)—A passenger on the tourist liner Franconia identified as a Dr. Werner was found dead beside the railway track 200 miles from Bombay today.

Warner's wife awoke last night enroute to Bombay by train and discovered that her husband was missing.
Searching parties were organized immediately.

A number of other tourists from the Franconia were on the train.

Relief Corps To Present Awards

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORP TO HOLD PATRIOTIC MEETING ON FEBRUARY 20

In celebration of the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln the Woman's Relief Corps in conjunction with the Public Schools will hold a meeting in the auditorium of the High School, to which the public is cordially invited, the evening of February 20.

Each school will have a part on the program and the main feature of the evening will be the presentation of flags to the schools and to the writer of the best essay in each school.

This contest, as in past years, has been conducted by the Corps in the sixth grade. The children have entered into it with great enthusiasm and have produced essays of exceptional merit which are now in the hands of a committee of judges, composed of Mrs. Jacob Kiefer, Mrs. Ray Trembley and Mrs. Walter Brown, who will announce the names of the prize winners very shortly.

HOUSE PASSES WAR VETS' BILL BY BIG VOTE

VETERANS' LOAN MEASURE TO SENATE WITH FAVORABLE
ENDORSEMENT

WATSON MAKES STATEMENT

Indiana Salon Believes There Should
Be a Hearing On Bill. Passage Certain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17, (UP)—
The veterans' loan bill poked a smiling face into the senate today, carrying one of the most favorable endorsements ever given by the house of representatives to any legislation.

Only 39 Republicans stood by President Hoover yesterday in one of the most startling reversals given administration house forces in years. Senate advocates of the bill met it today with every intention of hurrying it through, possibly with an even greater endorsement. The house vote was 363 to 39, all negative votes being Republican.

Senate majority leader Watson said today he thought there should be hearings on the bill, but in the same breath he admitted there is no chance to defeat it. The senate might modify it, he said, and he was speaking of modifying it downward, but indications were that if it is modified, it would be to make its terms still more liberal.

The measure as passed by the house
increases the loan limit on adjusted service certificates to 50 per cent of the full matured value and fixes a flat,
four-and-a-half per cent interest rate
on certificate loans.

"I think there should be hearings before the finance committee," Watson said. "No one had ever seen this bill before and it was hurriedly voted from the house ways and means committee.
Those who opposed it in the house had only 20 minutes to discuss it."

Proposed Salary Grab Is Expensive

PROPOSITION NOW PENDING IN LEGISLATURE WOULD COST
PUTNAM COUNTY $6,640

The proposed salary grab for county officers, now pending in the Indiana legislature, if it passes, will cost
the Putnam county tax payers only $6,640. This is revealed in figures compiled by L. L. Wimmer, representing the Indiana Taxpayers Assocation. Mr. Wimmer works in 24 central and southern Indiana counties and the increase from this bill alone in these counties will run slightly more than $153,000. It is safe to say that the increases will run in the same proportion in the rest of the state and this would make the grand total more than $600,000 for the already burdened tax payers to go down in their pockets after, and it might run higher than the $600,000 figure.

In this county present salary and budget and the proposed figures are set forth as follows, the first being the salary, the second the budget and the third the proposed increase.

Clerk	$2,800	$2,800	$4,700
Auditor	3,800	3,800	4,700
Treasurer	2,400	2,400	4,100
Recorder	2,100	2,100	3,020
Sheriff	3,840	3,840	3,900
Surveyor	2,800	2,800	1,450
Superintendent	3,250	3,250	2,700
Assessor	1,440	1,440	1,600
Pros. Atty.	0,000	0,000	2,300
Commissioners	1,200	1,200	1,800
Total	23,630	23,630	30,270
Difference			$6,640

The proposed law would add to the surrounding counties, the following:
Vigo, $15,835; Owen $6,248; Morgan,
$6,365; Vermillion, $5,700; Montgomery, $5,947; Hendricks, $6,449; Clay, $4,450.

In the above figures the salaries of the superintendent show a decrease, but the present salary is $2,500 with an additional $750 for help and mileage, and it is safe to assume that this is continued in the new bill, which would make the increase slightly more than $200. The sheriff's fees are hard to estimate and Putnam county is not a fair sample, because in the larger places the boarding, etc., of prisoners amounts to high figures.

THE WEATHER

Unsettled tonight; slightly colder
in extreme south portion; Wednesday cloudy, becoming fair in south portion.

Mrs. C. C. Hurst who has been ill at her home on East Franklin street is improving.

ANOTHER RUMOR

The latest rumor Tuesday regarding the location of a plant on the Ferd Lucas farm, east of Greencastle, was that William J. Jenkins, to whom the farm was transferred Monday, is associated with Adam L. Beck. This latest rumor has it that Mr. Beck was planning on locating a brick plant on the Lucas farm until the top clay was used. After the clay was stripped from the rock, it was reported that the plant would be converted into a limestone mill for the manufacture of lime and limestone for various commercial uses.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Leo Hazelet, farmer, Greencastle, and Frances Hutcheon, at home, of Putnam county.

FARM BUREAU RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

DIRECTORS HOLD ELECTION IN COURTHOUSE MONDAY
EVENING

At a meeting of directors of the Putnam County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, Inc., in the courthouse Monday evening, officers of the organization for the ensuing year were re-elected.

Officers of the association are William Zeiner, president; Lowell Dicks, vice-president; Raymond Wright, secretary; and O. V. Smythe, treasurer.

Other matters pertaining to business of the association were discussed
by the directors and officers.

LINKS CAPONE WITH

"BIG BILL" THOMPSON

CHICAGO, Feb. 17, (UP)—Sear-face Al Capone was pictured today as the "power behind Big Bill Thompson" as the three leading candidates for the Republican nomination for mayor swung into the last week of Chicago's amazing primary campaign.
The name of Capone rang through every address, especially those of Thompson and Judge John H. Lyle, with each accusing the other, directly or indirectly, of alliance with the man whom Lyle classed as the most powerful gang leader of all time.

In a loop address, Lyle charged that Capone had contributed $150,000 to Thompson's campaign and repeated that he believed the issue was not between himself and Thompson, but between Capone and the people of Chicago.

Thompson replied that Lyle's principal supporter, the Chicago Tribune, had called upon Capone personally to settle a threatened strike of a group of its employees.

Charging that Capone never could have reached his place of power without the aid of the city administration, Lyle charged that the gangster had contributed $50,000 to Thompson's campaign four years ago and had been raising the $150,000 fund since that time.

JUDGE HEARS ARGUMENTS

AT NIGHT COURT SESSION

Arguments in the case of Alphonse
S. Griswold and Nancy J. Griswold, against Marie Griswold Denny and others, to set aside a judgement obtained in the local court two years ago by default, were heard by Judge James P. Hughes in an unusual night court session Monday evening. Arguments in the case took two hours.
Judge Hughes reserved a decision until he can make a further study of the arguments.

The plaintiffs were alleged to have lost a judgement in the local court in a case venued here from Hendricks county, involving real estate, but maintained in their action to have the default judgement set aside, that they did not know that attorneys representing them in the original case
had withdrawn, until after the trial date.

In the present suit the plaintiffs ask that the default judgement be set aside and that they be permitted to make a defense in the suit in which the default judgement was handed down.

ALFONSO WILL ABDICATE FOR SPAIN'S GOOD

KING READY TO STEP DOWN FROM THRONE IF NECESSARY

UNDER-SECRETARY IS QUOTED

Statement of War Official Interpreted As Ruler's Willingness To Make Sacrifice

BULLETIN

MADRID, Feb. 17, (UP)—Don Jose Salazar Guerra today abandoned his efforts to form a cabinet to succeed
that of Premier Gen. Damaso Berenguer, resigned.

He advised King Alfonso to ask Melquades Alvarez to form a new government.

MADRID, Feb. 17, (UP)—A statement attributed to King Alfonso XIII today by Gen. Fornells, acting undersecretary of war, was interpreted by some as indicating the king's willingness to abdicate if his abdication
would be for the good of Spain.

Gen. Fornells said that the king, after visiting Gen. Berenguer yesterday, spoke to the chiefs of bureaus of the ministry of the army and told them that he was willing to make "all sacrifices necessary for Spain's welfare."

Gen. Fornells quoted the king as saying that he approved everything done in that direction.

SCOUT MEETING

Members of the Boy Scout leaders' training course met at the high school gym Monday night. Opening exercises were in charge of Maynard Patterson, Prof. Vernon Sheffield discussed "How does a person become a Tenderfoot Scout?" This was followed by a brief period of training;
rehearsal of certain Tenderfoot requirements, and an investiture ceremony.

"How are knots (Tenderfoot requirement) tied?" was in charge of Mr. Patterson. Dean L. H. Dirks discussed "What is the form of troop organization?" and Capt. B. B. Mc-Mahon spoke on "What are the objectives of Scouting?"

The leaders' training course will meet again next Monday night.

Young People To Meet Here

WHITE LICK BAPTIST ASSOCIA-TION TO HOLD BANQUET
WEDNESDAY

The quarterly meeting of the White Lick Baptist Young People's Association will be held in the First Baptist church here tomorrow evening, featured by a banquet at 8 p. m.

At 7 o'clock, a program will be held in the off high school gymnasium in which a number of young people will take part. Approximately 150 are expected to attend this meeting. Delegations will come here from New Winchester, Bethel, Big Walnut, Coatesville, Stilesville, Amo, Clayton,
and from other churches in the association.

Hrold Storm, of the Bethel church,
president of the association, will preside.

Probably the biggest delegation will represent the local Baptist Young People's Union, which is the largest and strongest union in the association.

FILM STARS WED

NEW YORK, Feb. 17, (UP)— Charles Farrell and his bride, the former Virginia Valli, are scheduled to sail tonight on N. G. L. liner Augustus for Genoa and Naples on a three months honeymoon.

Farrell is 26, his bride is 36.
The film stars' secret marriage
early Saturday morning in the home of the Rev. Ralph M. Houston, pastor of the First M. E. church, Yonkers, N. Y., became known as news of the honeymoon booking leaked out.

FIRE AT CENTERPOINT

CENTERPOINT, Ind., Feb. 17,
(UP)—Fire, which started in the boiler room, completely destroyed the Mace saw mill and lumber yard here today with a loss estimated at $10,000.
No insurance was held on the property.

The mill, in operation here for more than 30 years, had been working on a large order of hardwood for furniture factories, company officials said,
and most of the finished stock was destroyed.

TO HOLD POSTMASTER'S EXAM AT RUSSELLVILLE

RUSSELLVILLE, Feb. 17.—Mrs.
Dwight Evans, Russellville postmistress, has received notice there will be an examination in the near future for a postmaster at Russellville. Receipts of application will end Feb. 27. The date of the examination will be stated on the admission cards sent to applicants after the date for the close of receipt of application, and will be about fifteen days after that date.

TRAIN HITS BRAZIL BOY

BRAZIL, Feb. 17.—John Muncie, 5 years old, was injured probably fatally last night when a Pennsylvania switch engine struck a coal
truck driven by the father, John Muncie, Sr., who escaped with slight injuries. The child suffered a fractured arm and leg and possible skull fracture.

ATTEMPTS TO CHANGE TAX BILLS FAIL

MEASURES UP FOR SECOND
READING DESPITE G. O. P.
ATTACK

SIX AMENDMENTS TABLED

Fight Against Tax Bills Led By Cecil Kistler, Republican, From Elkhart.

BULLETIN

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17, (UP)—
The house bill proposing a personal income tax was passed by a vote of 92 to 0 when it was brought up for third reading today. It now goes to the senate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17, (UP)— Repeated attempts of Republicans to alter the personal and corporation income tax measures were repulsed unsuccessfully last night, when the bills
were brought before the house of representatives on second reading as a special order of business. It was the first night session of the present assembly.

The attack was led by Cecil J. Kistler, Republican, Elkhart, who offered six amendments, all of which were tabled in rapid succession.

Both bills were Democratic platform pledges. They were ordered engaged last night and will be up for final action today, as Speaker Walter Meyer is anxious that they be placed before the senate as early as possible.

As the bills stand, all single persons would be allowed an exemption of $1,500, and married persons $3,500,
with $400 additional for each dependent. As first drawn, the exemption was $1,000 and $2,000, but this was raised in spite of Republicans, who contended that the higher exemptions
would not produce sufficient revenue.

Democrats look to these measures as their greatest hope for relieving the tax burden on real estate. They would net the state half the amount collected by the federal income tax, which amounted to $23,000,000 in the state last year.

DOAK LOSES MOTHER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17, (UP)—
Secretary of labor, William N. Doak left today for Bristol, Va., where his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Doak, died last night of pneumonia at the age of 83.

Robert Hoffman C. M. T. C. Chairman

COMMANDER OF LOCAL LEGION
POST TO ENROLL THIS COUNTY'S QUOTA

Announcement was made today that Robert Hoffman, commander of Greencastle Legion Post No. 58, has been appointed Putnam County chairman of the annual citizen's military training camp, and would enroll this county's quota of ten young men who will attend the camp to be held at Fort Benjamin Harrison June 19 to July 19 this summer.

Mr. Hoffman, in announcing this county's quota, said that the first ten youths who applied to him, would of course be the ones to attend this annual summer camp at expense of the government. Those who apply and are accepted should feel themselves obligated to attend, he said.

"BONE DRY" BILL STANDS UNALTERED

HOUSE KILLS BILL THAT WOULD HAVE ALLOWED LIQUOR
PERMITS

VOTE ON MEASURE, 51 TO 45

Indiana House of Representatives In Uproar Prior to Vote On Measure

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17, (UP)—
The Wright bone dry law will stand unaltered for another two years at least, by action of the house of representatives late yesterday, in killing a bill that would have permitted physicians to prescribe whisky for medical purposes. The vote was 51 to 45.

Twenty-two of the 51 votes against passage were cast by Republicans,
only three voting with the wets.

With such a majority opposing a liberalizing measure, similar action against a bill to repeal the Wright
bone dry law was considered certain.

This bill is now pending before the committee on public morals, which declined action on it until the medicinal measure had been acted upon.

Arguments became so heated during debate of the medicinal bill that it was necessary for Speaker Walter Meyer to hammer for order several times and, at one juncture, to order the aisles cleared of assemblymen as they waved clenched fist at each other and shouted their demands to be heard.

Tuscola, Ill., Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. Knight's aunt, Mrs.
Laura Vaughn. Mrs. Vaughn had visited here often.

Joseph L. Hague, age 61 years, prominent Indianapolis business man and politician, who died in Florida following an operation Monday was related to the Campbell family in Marion township in this county. Mr.
Hague attended many of the annual reunions of this family and was well known in east Putnam.

Miss Bertha Johnson who received a broken hip when she was struck by an automobile while standing on a curb in Indianapolis six weeks ago is reported not to be improving at the Methodist hospital where she was taken following the accident. Miss Johnson formerly lived here and her many friends will be grieved to learn of her condition.

William Glidewell who fell at his home near Fillmore last week and crushed several ribs, is reported improving.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baird and Mr.

DePauw Chapel

Prof. F. C. Tilden, head of the department of comparative literature at DePauw, was chapel speaker at the university chapel service Tuesday morning. Prof. Tilden chose a most apt subject, talking on Sinclair Lewis and the Noble prize for literature. Mr.

Lewis is the first writer to bring this honor to America.

Prof. Tilden prefaced his remarks with a short account of the Noble prizes and their purpose. The donor of these awards was the inventor of dynamite from which he made a great fortune and at his death left $9,000,- 000 the income from which was to be used to award individuals in five fields, physics, chemistry, medicine, peace and literature. A committee was to pick the representative of each field that had contributed most to the progress of humanity. America has received the physics prize three times,
the medicine prize once, the peace
prize four times, and the chemistry and literature award once each.

Taking the literary awards from 1910, Prof. Tilden showed that only three were romantic or classical writers and all the rest were either realists or naturalists. In the field of art today, many are questioning the relationship of art to beauty. Beauty, they claim, is transitory as our ideals of beauty change constantly, while art, once created, is permanent.

Sinclair Lewis is a naturalist. He believes that the pioneer spirit in America has exhausted itself in the scramble for material things and has nothing left to push forward into the field of spiritual things. An opposing school exists in Europe, Prof. Tilden indicated, that believes that Europe has exhausted itself in the scam-

ble for the immaterial and should go back to the simple life of materialism.
Sinclair Lewis was not awarded the Noble prize as the finest writer of literature nor of his group which includes such American writers as Theodore Dreiser, Zona Gale, Dorothy Canfield, and others. He is the most representative of a group.

RED CROSS DONATIONS
Several large donations were given to the Red Cross drought relief fund over the week end and has raised the total to $442.50. The donations are coming in very slowly but each one is of great help toward the national fund goal. Putnam county's total amount donated so far is far behind the quota, but with the response of several organizations, that have given freely and that of others who have given more than once, the total will be much larger within the next few days.

Organizations and people outside of Greencastle are answering the call with much more enthusiasm than has been expected. Several church and club organizations are giving as much as possible. Every church goer and club member in the county would give only a small amount, the quota would soon be reached.

Contributions reported this morning are as follows:

Home Economics Club, Mad. twp.	$5
Section Two, Christian church	$2.50
J. B. Burris, Claydonale	$5.00
Mrs. J. B. Burris	$5.00
Women's Circle, Presbyterian church	$5
Miss Lucy T. Bowen	$5.00

Martinsville Wednesday!

The Artesian City squad is preparing for the invasion of the Tiger Cubs. The Martinsville Reporter says:

The Greencastle "Tiger Cubs" will be here Wednesday night of this week for a game with the Artesians, the date having been changed from Friday night, the original schedule date. The main game of the evening will start at eight o'clock. A curtain raiser will be played at seven o'clock between the reserve teams of the two schools.

Greencastle took both games when the teams met there earlier in the season. The Tiger Cubs have "clawed" their way to a high place in the ranks of Hoosier high school basketball teams. The Cubs are one of the outstanding teams of the state. The game is sure to be hotly contested as Martinsville is eager to avenge the trouncing given them by Greencastle. The curtain raiser will also be good as the reserves have a score to settle with the visiting reserves.

Greencastle comes here Wednesday night. Artesians, this will be a good time to break that "Greencastle" jinx. The Tiger Cubs beat you at Greencastle. You should be just as courteous and return the beating when they come here. YOU CAN DO THAT VERY THING!

"Spike" Kelley's Clinton netters certainly have a busy week in store for them. Tonight, the Clintonians meet Paris, Ill. Friday evening they clash with Rockville, and on Saturday the Vermillion county aggregation comes here to battle Bausman's outfit.

A letter from "Eddie Cantor" of Fillmore is on our desk. Sorry we can't use it because the real signature of the writer is not attached.

Sullivan apparently had the victory over Greencastle neatly tucked away when Huff, forward and Fisher, guard, went out on personals. The Stone brothers then went on a scoring spree to make ten points in the last four minutes and pull victory out of the fire for the Tiger Cubs, 22 to 15.

It was a heart-breaker for the Sullivan fans. McAnally and Willis, two of the best centers in these parts were so intent on guarding each other that they made only one goal between them, that by Willis.—Brazil Times.

CONTINUE IN BUCKEYE CONFERENCE

DEPAUW AND WABASH ONLY HOOSIER SCHOOLS IN OHIO CIRCLE

DAYTON, O., Feb. 17 DePauw university and Wabash college will be allowed to continue as probationary members of the Buckeye Athletic Association, free to withdraw any time they find the conference unsuited to their needs, according to a motion passed by the directors of the association at their annual meeting here.

An annual investigation of athletics at all member colleges by the North Central Association of Colleges and secondary schools was recommended by the principle that all member colleges found subsidizing athletics be dismissed from the association was adopted.

The transfer rule was amended to allow athletes to change colleges any time during their freshman year. The previous limit was six weeks.

The National League baseball was adopted for use of the teams in the association, and the colleges completed their 1931-32 basketball schedules at the meeting.

The Wabash basketball schedule includes:

Jan. 4—Wittenberg at Wabash.

Jan. 9—Ohio Wesleyan at Wabash.

Jan. 15—Wabash at Denison.

Jan. 16—Wabash at Ohio university.

Jan. 20—DePauw at Wabash.

Jan. 30—Miami at Wabash.

Feb. 6—Wabash at Ohio Wesleyan.

Tiger Five Meets Miami Tonight

Moffett's Protesges Hope To Avenge Early Season Defeat By Ohio Team

Miami's fast working quintet will invade the Methodist camp tonight. Coach Tubby Moffett has been drilling his men hard in order that they be in the best of condition to avenge the defeat handed them about a month ago by the Oxford team.

According to all reports the Miami team is in tip-top condition. Although they have lost five conference games they defeated Ohio Wesleyan last week by a seven point margin. This is the first conference game that Wesleyan has lost, having won their first five games by comfortable margins.

The DePauw crew boasts a better record than Miami, having played five conference games and lost only two of them. The Tigers have turned in victories in the state over Rose Poly, N. A. G. U., Franklin, Bangs, and Earlham and have bowed before Indiana, Illinois, Earlham, and Ball Teachers.

After this week three contests remain on the DePauw schedule. The Tigers will journey to Wabash Feb. 23, to tangle with the Little Giants, Franklin will invade the Tiger stamping ground Feb. 26, and Ball Teachers college from Muncie will play here March 4 to complete the Tiger schedule.

Bird Writes Articles

For Current Issues

George L. Bird Writes Stories For Four Current Publications This Year

In the current issue of Outdoor Life is an article by George L. Bird, of the DePauw faculty entitled "Pot Hole Bass." This article deals with a type of bass found in Florida. The story is of the pot-hole type and deals with a popular experience for the sportsman.

Mr. Bird will have an article published in the next issue of Fish and Game, on "Alligator Hunting." He has received word from the magazine editor that his article, "How is Your Comeback?", has been accepted by that publication. This article concerns giving advice to the free lance writer on making the most of his rejection slips.

Nature Magazine, the official publication of the American Nature Society, will publish two recent articles of Mr. Bird. The first one is a personality study of the Florida sand hill crane, which is slowly becoming extinct.

The second article is a study of the inter-related feeding habits of the southern alligator and certain varieties of turtles and fish. Little has been done in this field before. Mr. Bird spent last summer in extensive research work upon the above subjects.

MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST IN PAPER OF '61

BITTER WAR FEELING INDICATED BY ITEMS FROM OLD BANNER

Many items of interest are found in a copy of the "Putnam Republican Banner" of May 30, 1861, many of which reflect the bitter feeling between the north and south at the outbreak of the civil war.

"One incident speaks of the flight of Dr. Charles McQueen, a man of northern birth, who had resided in New Orleans for eight years. Dr. McQueen had married the daughter of a wealthy planter and had acquired considerable property, but was compelled to abandon it on less than 24 hours' notice. His offense was being a Union man, the paper states.

The paper further quotes Dr. McQueen as relating a highly barbarous incident which occurred the Sunday preceding his departure. A Mrs. Sarah Sanford, a native of New Haven Conn., and a graduate of South Hadley Seminary, had been for some time an assistant teacher in a New Orleans grammar school. Some remarks, construed as Abolitionistic, which she had made in hearing of her pupils, had been reported by them to their parents. On the Sunday mentioned a mob gathered at her residence, she was seized, taken to Lafayette Square stripped and tarred and feathered, in the presence of an immense crowd, including many well dressed persons of her own sex, who were heard to applaud and urge on the atrocity.

Another item concerns the refusal by the President to accept the services of 100 Michigan Indians, which had been offered by the State of Michigan, to be used as scouts and runners in the war.

Another story gives the roll of the Asbury Guards, which at the time was camped at Camp Vigo, two miles north of Terre Haute. This unit was captained by J. R. Mahan. Other officers were: Lieut. R. E. Smith, 2nd Lieut. B. B. Tremelin, 1st sergeant W. C. Lyman, 2nd Ser. Daniel D. Ricketts, 3rd Ser. Jno. A. Scott, 4th Ser. F. M. Wilkinson, 5th Ser. F. B. Jones, 2nd Corp. George M. 3rd Corp. John Grogan, and 4th Corp. Arthur Wool.

High privates were Daniel A. Buckle, W. D. Alexander, W. A. Alley, D. W. Busby, R. M. Baker, A. J. Bidle, James M. Board, J. M. Busby, M. M. Beck, J. D. Bowman, Heber Bidle, Virgil Bridges, John L. ## MEETING SATURDAY

SPENCER, Ind., Feb. 16—Livestock and pastures will command the attention of farmers in Owen county and the surrounding vicinity, at a meeting to be held Saturday night, Feb. 21, in the Owen county court house at Spencer.

Jimmy Poole, marketing editor of the Breeders Gazette, who is well known to farmers through his daily market broadcasts from the Chicago stockyards will be the main speaker of the evening. Prof. Frank King, head of the animal husbandry department of Purdue University, and Claude Harper, sheep specialist from Purdue, will be other speakers on the program which has been announced by County Agent Robert Endicott.

The animal husbandry department of Purdue, the Breeders Gazette magazine, which recently established itself in a new home in Spencer, and the Owen County Farm Bureau are cooperating in holding the meeting.

OBITUARY

In the shadow of the greatest sorrow—yet in the light of the greatest hope, we mourn the loss of one we loved but who has passed on into the life of God.

Martha Ann, daughter of William and Emily Pierce, was born July 4th, 1856 near Mooreshead, Ky., and departed this life Feb. 8th, 1931, at the age of 74 years, 7 months and 4 days. At the age of twelve years she accepted Christ as her Savior and united with the Long Branch Christian church, west of this city, later moving her membership to the First Christian church of this city. She was a great lover and constant reader of the Bible.

On Jan. 17, 1878 she was united in marriage to James F. Fisk. Together they traveled the pathway of life for 53 years. This union was blessed with two children, a son, Emory Earl and a daughter, Esta Sybil.

She was a devoted wife, a mother in the truest sense of that sacred word; gentle, loving and unselfish; a fond and loving grandmother; and a pleasant friend and neighbor.

Simplicity, gentleness of manner, and little acts of kindness were some of the virtues that marked her life. She was a member of Bethel Rehekah lodge, and associate member of the Martha Washington club and the Thursday Reading club.

She is survived by the husband and daughter, the son died in service during the Spanish-American war, three grandchildren, two great grandchildren, two brothers and a sister, other relatives and a host of friends who sorrow at her departure. With faith and trust in God the gentle spirit of his truly good woman passed on to receive the reward.

Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of the Lord.

God holds the key of all unknown and I am glad.

If other hands should hold the key, or, if he trusted it to me, I would be sad.

What if tomorrow's cares were here without its rest?

I'd rather he'd unlock the day, and as the homes swing open say—Thy will is best.

I cannot read his future plan, but this I know—I have the smiling of his face.

And all the refuge of his Grave, while here below.

Though, this covered all my wants, and so I rest,

For what I cannot, He can see, and in his care, I surely be,

Forever blest.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our dear wife, mother, and grandmother.

James L. Fisk, Thomas Sweet and family.

SCIENTISTS HUNT SECRETS OF DEAD INDIAN TRIBE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17, (UP)—Florida Indians who were supposed to hold the secret of the Fountain of Youth are again being sought. This time a scientific expedition is in pursuit of their secrets.

The expedition, consisting of Matthew W. Stirling, chief of the Bureau of American Ethnology, and his brother G. M. Stirling, of the Peabody Museum of Harvard, are on the east coast of Florida now.

The Indians who met Ponce de Leon had failed so dismally to help him in his quest for lost youth were in themselves fine husky specimens, Matthew Stirling said in outlining his expedition. Science is content to let the fountain of youth go, but it could like to know more about the Calusa Indians, as the old natives of Florida are called. Science wishes early that Ponce de Leon, or some other traveler had taken the trouble to write down a good description of the Calusa tribe.

"Although the Calusa were an important tribe, they were exterminated early," Stirling said. "So we have to depend on archaeology to find visible relics of their existence and to describe them from that evidence."

The Calusa were mound builders, he explained. Numerous mounds, that now where their settlements stood, are still to be seen in Florida. Burials of these Indians that have been found show that the Calusa were heavy-boned, muscular, stock people. They had the largest jaws of any Indians, even larger than the Eskimo, according to Stirling, but their faces were large so that the effect was not grotesque.

Stirling's expedition is exploring the east coast of Florida from Cape Canaveral southward, seeking Indian sites that appear to be of scientific importance. The archaeologists will also go into the Everglades to seek mounds that natives have reported from that section. Excavations will be made at one or more mounds that seem prominent.

IMPORTANT WORK DONE IN HIGHWAY LABORATORY

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16 (UP)—Some of the most important work relative to road construction and maintenance is done in laboratories, according to William J. Titus, chief engineer of the Indiana highway department.

Morgan was no fool. He walked quietly to the wall and between his fingers he picked up his entry. Sure enough, he was stuck fast! But Morgan wanted to be sure of the culprit. He made a sort of inspection, look- ing over every nook, but he could find none who was chewing gum save Butch.

He walked toward Butch and their eyes met. Butch gulped once, swallowed the gum, and then grinned sheepishly. Morgan showed the cuss the gum beneath the beaten roach. Butch turned angrily at the group. "Who done that?" he cried. "Who fixed this roach?"

"You did!" cried Morgan, a twinkling in his eye. He reached down quickly and snatched up his ten packages of cigarettes and stuffed them in his blouse.

"Who . . . me?" Butch was offended.

"Yes, you. You doped my stable." His words were met with grumblings in the circle. Several who had lost glared at Butch. The latter's rage was mounting. He swept the faces about

Morgan walked furiously away. This guard, Wallace, was enough to egg the most resolute man on to murder. He strolled down the yard toward Butch's gang, who were all grouped about something on the wall which had aroused their interests. Morgan found that they had just captured two cockroaches and were about to race them.

"Get down your bets—I'm backing this mule," Butch cried.

"Ten packs of weeds on the skinny one," Morgan called in. Butch greeted him with a nod.

"Come on—cover 'em."

"I'm betting two to one on Morgan's pipe cleaner," from Joe.

Chewing tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, papers and tailored cigarettes, all went to the pile. Meantime, Butch drew a big, regular circle on the wall with a rock. In the other hand he held his cap, which covered the restless, bewildered cockroaches.

Butch peered beneath the cap and was fingering the insects when a general hubbub arose.

"Go to it, Butch."

"Come on, you sink sprinters."

Butch raised the cap grandiloquently, and the two bugs were discovered huddling close to, the wall. The large one, identified as Butch's, was peppy and active. He raised his small head, shot his feelers out experimentally in several directions, and then shook his pointed face.

"Look at 'e size of him!" cried Butch, in admiration.

"Speed, not size wins races," said Morgan.

"Yeah—well, I'll take power."

The brawny cockroach had already begun to crawl. The other appeared anxious to follow, but could not budge. His legs flew out at the sides and his feelers jiggled rapidly.

"Say, Morg, what's the matter with your bug?"

"He's dead!"

"His mind ain't on his business."

Butch was shouting. "Come on, Big Boy—come on, Sugarfoot—give Morg a nag a kick in the whisker. . . . come on cocky, old roach. . . . Morg's bug is on flypaper."

The large cockroach went over the line. Several cheered weakly. Butch grinned broadly and began to raise the packages of cigarettes and other smoking materials. Morgan just happened to notice, as Butch raised his head, that the killer was waving gum. He then looked at his cockroach and saw him still at the starting point.

Morgan was no fool. He walked quietly to the wall and between his fingers he picked up his entry. Sure enough, he was stuck fast! But Morgan wanted to be sure of the culprit. He made a sort of inspection, look- ing over every nook, but he could find none who was chewing gum save Butch.

Forensic Team Plans
Carded For This WeekDePauw Meets Indiana Law School,
State Normal, Cincinnati, And Kent College

DePauw University debate teams will be exceedingly busy this week. Tuesday evening the team composed of David Kingman, Saugus, Miss., John George, Paduilton, and Ray Donaldson, Washington, will take the negative side of the question that conscripted wealth should be used to defray the expenses of the next war. This debate will be held in Indianapolis against the Indiana Law School.

Harold Jack, of Mechanicsburg, O., will replace Donaldson on the team for a debate against Indiana State Normal at Terre Haute Thursday night on the same question. While this team is debating at Terre Haute, the DePauw coed debate team will engage the University of Cincinnati coeds here Thursday evening in a debate on the question of abolishing legal censorship. The DePauw team, composed of Clare McKim, of Cincinnati, Helen Dickinson, of Gary, and Mary Sargent, of Chatham, N. J., will take the affirmative side.

Sunday afternoon, DePauw will take part in its first radio debate, engaging Kent college of Law in Chicago. The debate will be broadcast from radio station WLS from 3 o'clock to 3:30. The DePauw team for the radio debate will be made up of Roland Matthies, of Hammond, and John Hughes, of Indianapolis. Kent college has engaged in a number of radio debates already this year. The DePauw team will take the negative side of the question involving the abolishment of capital punishment.

Next Sonata Recital
To Give Modern MusicMusic School Professors To Feature
Numbers Of Contemporary Composers

The second of the current season's sonata recitals by Prof. Rowland Leach and Prof.

Vernon Sheffield of the school of music, will be given in Meharry hall on Thursday night at 8 o'clock. This recital promises to be one of the most unique and entertaining of any to date. Professor Leach in commenting on the forthcoming recital said:

"It is a rather common belief among concert-goers that 'modern' music that is, the music of the contemporary composers, is essentially discordant, strange, uncouth and without melody or comprehensible harmony. That is not entirely true and our recital Thursday night will be a program made up entirely of modern music, but for beauty of melody, honest expression and richness of harmony has not been surpassed by any program we have ever played."

The program will be divided into three numbers, the first sonata is by Wolf - Ferrari, composer of the operatic comedy, "The Secret of Suzanne." This will be followed by the "Suite" by Stravinsky, probably the most discussed composer of the Twentieth century. This

The third number will be a sonata by Tansman, a contemporary German composer who appeared in America a few years ago. His sonata is characterized by brevity, continuous melody and an individuality of shifting harmony that is interesting and enjoyable. In preparing this program, both Professors Leach and Sheffield, count it "one of the most pleasing that they have ever offered. Their sonata recitals have been an enjoyable feature of the music school's activity for the last two years.

A MARCH GARDEN
FOR FOOD RELIEF

If you want to have the first radishes, lettuce and beets in the neighborhood and steal a march on both old man Time and Drought Relief, start your 1931 garden in an easily and cheaply constructed hot bed. With a six by six foot bed made up of two standard hot bed sash you can produce all the lettuce, radishes and beets for the family a month ahead of what from the home garden. If you haven't the sash you can make one at little cost.

Besides these early crops to balance the regularisation this hot bed will provide an economical plan to start head lettuce, kohlrabi, cabbage, cauliflower, pepper, egg plants, tomatoes, sweet potatoes and other plants for the farm garden. With plants properly grown, coming directly from your own hot bed, you can be assured of better plants, of just the varieties you want when you want them. With such plants you ought to be assured the first vegetables in the neighborhood. After all the first test of a "reel for sure" gardener is his ability

CHAPTER XIX

A guard led Morgan into the small visitor's room. His eyes were on the other side, behind the wire netting. There she was—Anne!

He rushed forward and to a moment he could say nothing. Anne looked at him, in the convulsed grey, her eyes filled with tears, her head slightly tilted, her hands against the screen.

"Anne!" he said at last.

"Oh, John!" she hesitated, then added: "You are John to me—John Ever—still my John."

"Anne, how did you know I was out today?"

"The warden—he told me. I had been to see him before. I had a long chat with him. I told him the truth—everything—now I knew you had changed and that you should be given a chance."

"Sweet Anne—but you don't know prisons—"

"He was so kind and considerate. He believes me and believes that you—he says that he will believe as your conduct convinces him."

The time seemed so short. She told him how she had been incapacitated for a month after the awful news;

Morgan burned to coil her into his arms and console her, to hold her close, to thank her, bless her, kiss her, dishevel her—

But between them was the cold, hard metal mesh of his transgression. At each foot's length was a steel bar. He was in stir!

A guard tapped him on the shoulder.

"Time up, Morgan."

Anne looked at him helplessly, backed up by only the determination and affection she read in his eyes. She smiled gamely and held her face close to the imperturbable screen. He placed his lips there. He closed his eyes. He felt as if their lips met. He pressed until his lips bled. But it could not be enough. Women's warm mouths are not for cons.

"Good-bye, Anne, don't worry," he wept.

"Good-bye, John—I'll write you, believe in me."

Morgan staggered drunkenly through the prison yard without seeing anything. He was rudely roused by a tug at his arm.

"What's a hurry, pal?" It was Butch. "Remember me at all?"

"Say Butch," raved Morgan, dizzily, "were you ever in love? I mean on the level—all the way?"

"Me? Well, that's a wicked question to answer. I used to like Sadie—she was a good old frill. Sadie never had that bug poison I slipped

"Say, Butch," raved Morgan, "were you ever in love—I mean on the level?"

how Ruby had been her unremitting companion; how Ruby had told her so many fine things about him and had advised her how to act.

"John—John you look so pale—and weak," she sniffled compassionately.

"Oh, that's nothing—I'll be all right in a few days—I'll tone me up."

"But that dungeon—is it as ghastly as Ruby says?"

"No, not at all," Morgan laughed, "it's half bad—they give you angel cake and the best of food. The dieting really does you good—why some people of their own accord do worse than that by themselves."

Anne was silent a moment.

"How is Kent?" she ventured at last.

Morgan's face turned hard. But he smiled again with an effort to conceal the emotions.

"Oh, he's all right. He's a trusty now—in the library. He doesn't have a hard time at all. Haven't you heard from him?"

"Yes, I have received two letters—but I have not even read them. I can't bear to. I feel so—so gosh—fleshly about it all."

"Don't think of it, Anne honey. If you don't love him, don't grieve over him. It wasn't your fault that he got here. He will be a different man when he gets out."

"What? How? You mean—"

"Just that he'll be older, his views on life will have changed. He will think in new veins and channels."

"I thought you meant something else."

"But, what else could I have meant?"

"Nothing," Anne bit her lip. "But John—I can call you that, can't I?—John, can't you talk to him for me—tell him the truth. Explain to him that I feel toward him as I always felt, that I want to help him, but that I don't love him and that I never did and I will never marry him."

Morgan looked into her suppliant, generous, feminine eyes.

"I'll tell him," he agreed with slow emphasis. Then: "But how do you feel, Anne—toward me? Are you willing to sacrifice years of your life for me? Do you really believe you care enough? In here we have lots of time to think—and feel. We can't fight for what we want. It will be hell for me if I am not sure. I am selfish."

"To dream and hope and wait that some day I can be free and I can have you, yet to think and fear that after all, you are not sure you want me enough to hold out and keep your self for a convict—"

"Oh, John, don't talk like that," Anne begged, with tears in her eyes. "I do love you and I will wait for you. I never was surer of anything in all my life. There could be no other man."

"Oh, I love you so, Anne. I have nothing else—you are all—everything—my religion!"

"I'll wait for you dearest—I'm your woman. I told Ruby—I lied so she'd understand."

Her voice trailed off in a sob. How ity to grow plants of the same quality as those put out by the master gardener.

Plan now to help bolster the family dinner table with fresh crisp lettuce, radishes and beets, and save the plant bill by growing your own.

Consult your county agricultural agent or write to the Purdue Horticultural Department, Lafayette, Ind., for Purdue Bulletin No. 77, "Construction and Care of Hot Bed"; follow the regulations laid down and grow vegetables and plants that will enable you to recall pleasant recollections later.

The meeting is being held under the auspices of the department of agricultural extension of Purdue university in various districts of the state.

FATHER OF TWELVE ENDS
LIFE IN MONROE COUNTY

Will Houston Chambers, 49, a farmer living about 15 miles southwest of Bloomington, committed suicide early Monday by shooting himself below the heart.

His body was discovered in the loft of his barn, a moment later by his son, Ray Chambers, 19. A 12-gauge shotgun, one shell fired, was lying beside the man's lifeless body. Chambers left a note, telling members of his family to take care of his mother, Mrs. Mary Chambers, who had made her home with them. It is believed that worry over his aged mother's ill health as well as his own physical condition had depressed Chambers, leading him to take his life and that the act was not done impulsively.

Besides the mother, Chambers leaves his widow, Mrs. Bertha Chambers, and 12 children.—Bloomington World.

Cohen and Kelly, whose personal arguments are screamingly loud, cannot fail to agree that their manufacturing business is in a depression because of a shortage of ivory for the keys. In desperation they decide to go to Africa on an expedition under the leadership of Windjammer Thorn, a fake explorer.

Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Kelly, not left behind, accompany their husbands into the wilds of "dark continent." The wives are captured by a band of Arabians and placed in the sheik's harem. Cohen and Kelly, the misfortune of falling into the hands of a tribe of cannibals.

How their serious predicament is finally untangled will be shown at the Granada theater.

The splendid supporting cast includes Lloyd Whitlock, Nick Goggin, Frank Davis and Eddie Kane. Moore directed the picture.

Tonight "One Heavenly Night" starring Evelyn Laye and John Boles will have its final showing.
